INSTRUCTIONS TO CANDIDATES:

1. Answer any THREE questions only.
2. Each question carries 25 Marks.
3. Start each question on a new page of your answer sheet.
4. Use relevant examples or case studies in answering your questions

1. 'The human race is always divided by quite a number of factors. Humans are divided according to sex, race, class, employment, geographical location, preferences, interests, opinions, culture among other things. All these factors if not handled carefully may lead to violent conflict.' Using any country of your own choice as a case study, suggest strategies to deal with ethnicity based conflicts.
2. 'Peacekeeping has been an area largely dominated by men globally. Contemporary peacekeeping is now a field that involves quite a number of players including civilians, women, special interest groups (women involved), private security, seconded national security forces.' As a new field now incorporating women, discuss challenges faced by women peacekeepers in their operations and suggest strategies to overcome these challenges.
3. Using the current PVO Bill in Zimbabwe, critically analyze the conflict that exist between civil society and the state in the neo-liberal era.
4. Trace the evolution and changing nature from conflict resolution to conflict management.
5. Comment on the search for peace, unity and reconciliation in Zimbabwe from 1978 to current period.
